Hi Steve

Is it possible to add the "Print" function for the individual member's posts?

Similar like for the threads where you can print all posts in the thread, but in this case, it would be all posts of the desired member?

Hope that makes sense

Cheers

The members posts page is the same kind of layout so its easily printable anyway

But why waste the paper?

Hi Steve

Hm.. it might be the same layout but I don't see that option? The point is it would be the easiest way to gather all members posts in one file in a quick and easy way.

I wouldn't necessarily print it on the paper, but once I have that option I can save it as PDF for example.

I think some other members might find this useful too? Should I make a pool?

Cheers

Make your browser narrower so the sidebar menu doesnt appear, and see
<https://www.rouletteforum.cc/index.php?action=profile;area=showposts;u=1153>
(<https://www.rouletteforum.cc/index.php?action=profile;area=showposts;u=1153>)

Then print the page as pdf and the result is similar to the print page function.

i see what you mean, but in this example you would have to separately save down the pages as pdf 64 times, then merge the files. Not that big of a deal, but Drazen was looking for an option to download all posts in a single file with one click.

Off topic, but related to forum function. The "Search in topic subjects only" option has never worked on this forum.

The search function with topics isn't compatible with the rating system.

There's no option to download all a user's posts in one click. Drazen, why do you need to download it?

The software is designed to do it in parts is because such searches are demanding for the server.
